TOP THINGS TO DO

- Astoria Column — Climb 164 spiral steps inside this 125-foot hilltop tower to panoramic views of the Columbia River, Pacific Ocean, and Cascade peaks.
- Columbia River Maritime Museum — One of the best maritime museums on the West Coast, sitting right on the waterfront.
- Fort Clatsop / Lewis & Clark National Historical Park — A replica of the fort where Lewis & Clark and the Corps of Discovery spent the winter of 1805-06 before returning east.
- Fort Stevens & Peter Iredale Shipwreck — The rusting skeleton of the 1906 four-masted steel barque Peter Iredale is one of the most photogenic shipwrecks on the Pacific coast.
- Craft Brewery Tour — Astoria has an outsized craft brewing scene.

BEST WALKS

- Astoria Riverwalk 1.5 miles one-way · Flat · 30-40 min — Follow the old railroad bed along the Columbia River from Pier 1 through downtown to the east end.
- Historic Downtown Astoria 0.5 miles · Flat · 1-2 hrs with stops — Head up 14th Street from the Riverwalk to the Flavel House Museum (stunning 1885 Queen Anne mansion), then along Commercial Street for galleries, shops, and the Oregon...

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- No sales tax in Oregon. Stock up on anything you've been meaning to buy — clothing, gear, souvenirs — all tax-free.
- Layer up. Astoria sits at the mouth of the Columbia and can be foggy and cool even in summer. A windproof jacket is essential.
- Fort George Brewery is the local favorite. The Public House is open all day and the beer is excellent — worth the 10-minute walk from the pier.
- Watch for sea lions on the docks along the Riverwalk. They're wild and vocal — keep your distance and don't feed them.
- The trolley is worth it. The vintage "Old 300" riverfront trolley is charming, cheap ($2 all-day), and a fun way to cover the waterfront without walking both ways.
- Goonies fans: The Oregon Film Museum is in the actual jail from the movie. A quick guided Goonies locations tour is available and sells out fast on port days.
