KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- Book Auberge Ravoux in advance. Van Gogh's room sells out quickly, especially on weekends. Reserve online at maisondevangogh.fr before your cruise departs.
- Train access from Paris: Direct H-line trains from Gare du Nord run on weekends (April–November), ~35-45 min. Midweek requires a change at Pontoise from Saint-Lazare. Useful for cruise passengers joining from Paris.
- Cash and cards both accepted in most shops and restaurants, but smaller museum ticket desks may prefer cash. ATMs are available near the town hall.
- Best light in the morning. The wheat fields and church are beautiful in early light — if your ship arrives early, head to the fields before the tour groups arrive.
- Lunch at Auberge Ravoux is a bucket-list experience — French bistro food in the room where Van Gogh ate his last meals. Reserve ahead; lunch service only.
- Grab the free art map from the tourism office near the station. It plots every Van Gogh painting location in the village — far more useful than a phone app in this area.
