KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- Saturday market is a must: If your ship docks on a Saturday, prioritize the grand market — voted France's best in 2020. Norman cheese, fresh scallops, cider, and crafts fill the town center.
- Pack for Normandy weather: The Channel coast is famously fickle — even in summer it can be cool and rainy. A windproof, waterproof jacket is essential year-round.
- Small/mid-size ships only: Dieppe's harbor fits vessels up to ~160 m. If you're on a large mega-ship, confirm your itinerary — this is not a standard mega-ship port.
- Monday closures: Many Dieppe restaurants and shops are closed Mondays. On Mondays, stick to museum visits or book a ship excursion.
- Order the scallops: Dieppe is France's premier scallop landing port. Coquilles Saint-Jacques and Marmite Dieppoise (creamy Norman fish stew) are what to eat here — don't leave without trying both.
- Cash for the market: Cards are widely accepted in restaurants and museums, but small market stalls and vendors may prefer cash. Bring €20-30 in euros.
