KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- Open container law: Savannah permits alcohol in plastic cups on public streets in the Historic District — a quirk visitors love. Bars will pour your drink to-go.
- Heat & humidity: Summers are brutally hot and humid. Bring water, wear light clothing, and plan shade stops. Spring and fall are ideal.
- Ghost tours: Savannah claims to be one of America's most haunted cities. Evening ghost walks are popular — check if your call extends into early evening.
- Pick up pralines: Savannah's old-fashioned candy shops (River Street Sweets, Savannah's Candy Kitchen) have been making pralines for decades — don't leave without a bag.
- No car needed: If you're walking the Historic District, skip any excursion that involves parking hassles. The squares, River Street, and City Market are all on foot from the dock.
