KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- Dress for heat and humidity. Summers in St. Pete are hot and muggy (90°F+). Light clothing, sunscreen, and hydration are essential. Spring and fall are ideal cruise seasons.
- Free Downtown Looper trolley runs a loop through the city core — useful for covering more ground without renting a car or calling rideshares.
- Book the Dalí Museum in advance. It's the city's marquee attraction and can be busy. Online tickets let you skip the ticket line.
- Beach day? Clearwater is the best option. St. Pete Beach and Fort De Soto Park are closer (~20-25 min), Clearwater Beach (~40 min) is the region's most famous. All require a car or rideshare.
- USD everywhere; no currency hassle. Tipping is standard at restaurants (18-20%). Parking downtown is metered or paid lots — Uber/Lyft is often easier.
- St. Pete is primarily a homeport, not a turnaround stop. Most ships overnighting or departing from here; confirm your ship's schedule so you know how much time you actually have ashore.
